Rebuilding Community.

Rebuilding Hope.

Susan has lived in Monroe County for decades.

She's an active volunteer who graduated from IU and raised her children here.

Just as her kids were leaving the nest and she looked forward to more free time, the unexpected happened and she needed help herself.

A Thriving Life Takes a Turn

A medical issue arose that forced her to stop working, apply for Disability Benefits, and even give up her comfortable home. The deep appreciation she's held for our community was shaken as she attempted to navigate the process of rebuilding her life. Susan shared, "This town looks different to me now. Potentially being homeless is scary."

Not Alone...

Unfortunately, Susan's story is not unique. In our region, nearly half of all households are living paycheck to paycheck, one emergency away from financial ruin. United Way has stepped up – with initiatives like Heading Home, the Financial Stability Alliance, and the Resiliency Investment Framework – tackling the structural changes needed to help people on their journey to recovery and financial mobility. But we need your help.

By Helping One, We Help All

Every gift impacts someone in need. Your support means Susan won't find herself on the street. She'll connect to funds to move into her own home, pay her bills, and access healthy food and medical care.

Your donation rebuilds lives like Susan's and rebuilds a resilient community where friends and neighbors can weather life's unexpected challenges.

Your support of United Way assures that our community develops more affordable housing, a strong food security system, and accessible healthcare. We bring together partners who work collaboratively on these tough issues, laying out road-maps for action well into the future.

"These are urgent matters," Susan shared with us. Please help. Together, we will rebuild community, rebuild hope. Thank you!
